

the PROMISE

The flood washed away every living thing on the earth. But Noah and his family survived.

After many long, lonely months the Ark came to rest on a mountain named Ararat.

Day after day Noah released a tiny white dove. One day she came back with an olive branch in her beak. Noah knew it would soon be dry enough to leave the ark.